

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

December 2, 2016

Contact: Ginger Jackson
VP, Business Development
SelfRefind
(859) 209-2296

SelfRefind names Steve Priest as new President and Chief Executive Officer

Danville, KY. – SelfRefind, a privately-held healthcare organization specializing in addiction treatment utilizing a trauma-informed recovery oriented systems of care approach, has announced the appointment of Steve Priest as its new President and Chief Executive Officer, effective December 1, 2016. SelfRefind currently operates in 19 locations across Kentucky and Ohio serving more than 3,800 clients.

Steve Priest joins SelfRefind with over 25 years of experience leading multi-state, multi-site healthcare organizations. Most recently, he served as Senior Vice President & Chief Wisdom Officer at DaVita HealthCare Partners, Inc. During his tenure at DaVita, he led the operations of over 400 individual treatment centers across the United States. In addition, he had responsibilities in leadership development, training & education, and culture for more than 65,000 teammates at DaVita.

“The Board of Directors of SelfRefind is excited to have such an experienced and successful leader join our team,” said Jamie Durham, former CEO and board member of SelfRefind. “Steve is a mission and values driven leader that understands the importance of the work that our teams do every day to help save lives, instill hope and restore relationships. He has a wealth of knowledge that he brings to our organization as we strive to become the nationwide leader in the addiction treatment services space.” Durham will continue to serve on the SelfRefind board as well as continue as a member of the leadership team.

“It is an honor to join the SelfRefind team that is providing remarkable care to so many fellow human beings,” said Priest. “The opportunity to lead this team forward as we continue to refine our model of care and expand our footprint is exciting for me both personally and professionally.”

SelfRefind exists to save lives, instill hope and restore relationships by pioneering a local and affordable treatment model that transforms the individual’s families and communities impacted by the disease of addiction.

###